

Plantation River Tour & Historic Georgetown

---

Explore the Historic Waccamaw River and Plantations of Georgetown by both water and foot! Along your river tour you will see rice plantations, trunk gates, moss laden oak trees as well as local wildlife such as alligators, eagles, osprey and much more. Your guide will be a local historian entertaining and educating you on the history, mysteries and ledges of the rice plantations of the Low Country. Experience the history of the oldest English city in the state come alive before your eyes. You will stroll through the city's historic district full of preserved buildings that can date back as far as the Victorian era, which are now home to many charming boutiques and restaurants. During your tour, you will visit the Kaminski House which is more representative of the Georgian style of architecture than any of the other 60 plus antebellum homes in Georgetown. Finally, you will stop at the Prince George Winyah Episcopal Church, one of the few original churches in South Carolina dating back to the colonial period and is still actively used today. This tour shows you the rich history of Georgetown while also displaying the town's modern day beauty!

Charleston Tea Plantation, Firefly Distillery & Angel Oak

Come along and enjoy some of Charleston's secret gems outside of the city limits. First, sit back and listen to an entertaining historical narrative of the Low Country as you venture to the Charleston Tea Plantation, North America's only tea plantation. Here you will see hundreds of thousands of tea bushes stretching out over acres almost as far as the eye can see. Take delight in the breath-taking scenery as you take a thirty-five-minute trolley tour through the plantation with a stop at the greenhouse and a complimentary factory tour. After the Tea Plantation, you will have worked up an appetite so we will stop at the Tattooed Moose, a local beloved Charleston tavern that has even been featured on the Food Network, to grab a bite to eat. After lunch, you'll be on your way to the Firefly Distillery located on Wadmalaw Island, which is around thirty miles south of Charleston. Firefly is the largest distillery in the state and has become recognized for their sweet tea vodka, moonshine and wines. After your tour of the distillery you will be able to go in the Tasting Room to take part in some samples. Finally, before we begin our trip back to the beach you will get to visit the famous Angel Oak Tree. At the age of approximately 400 to 500 years old this live oak is reportedly the oldest living thing east of the Rockies. This tour gives you the unique opportunity to experience top Charleston attractions outside of the city-center.

Low Country Mysteries & Enchantments

At the start of your tour you will depart for Brookgreen Gardens, named one of the "Top Five Favorite Gardens" by Southern Living Magazine, Brookgreen is filled with beautiful native flora and American sculpture. The Gardens house the largest collection of outdoor sculptures by American artists in the world! Next, we will stop at Pawleys Island to enjoy the charming Hammock shops. In 1889, a riverboat captain by the name of Joshua John Ward created what he claimed to be the sturdiest and most comfortable cotton-rope hammock ever crafted. As time passed Ward's design grew so much in popularity that his family opened the Original Hammock shop in 1939. Today, the Hammock Shops feature quaint boutiques and eateries that you will be able to experience for yourself as you stroll through the beautiful oak shaded paths. After some leisurely shopping, we will venture to All Saints Church to see the beautiful chapel built for local planters of the Prince George Winyah Parish in 1767. At the church, not only will you get to look at its historic beauty, but also have the chance to hear of some of the mysterious stories surrounding the church such as the tale of Alice Flagg. Finally, we will stop at Atalaya Castle to explore the grounds and learn about the winter home of Anna and Archer Huntington. Built in 1931 this fortress is full of mazes and intriguing stone rooms; if you get an eerie feeling while in the castle, you are not alone, many people have claimed to have experienced some unusual things while on the grounds. This tour gives you the unique opportunity to discover some of the treasured beauties of the Low Country as well as some of its mysteries too.
